

I am appalled that the fact that media conglomerates like Sinclair are apparently able to use their power and influence to dictate programming, and to air blatantly partisan documentaries under the guise of "news". This is contrary to all notions of a free and unbiased press in which we can place our trust.